HUNDREDS COMING FOR TRADE WEEK

Retail Merchants of South Prepare to Descend on Richmond Tuesday.

SUCCESS IS NOW ASSURED

Local Jobbers Get Ready to Give Visitors Famous Welcome.

The city is ready for the reception next week of the hundreds of retail merchants who are coming from all parts of the South to enjoy the entertainments of "Spring Trade Week" as the guests of the Trade Extension Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. Members of the bureau's executive committee have been working like Trojans for weeks past to complete the arrangements for this commercial festival, which promises to outdo the successful "Better Acquaintance Week" of last August.

Despite the gloomy predictions that such an affair staged in the spring would attract but few merchants, hundreds of retailers have written of their intention to attend. No such outpouring of retailers as occurred for "Better Acquaintance Week" is to be expected at this time of the year for the reason that most Southern merchants do their large buying in the early fall. What the local manufacturers and jobbers seek to do in staging "Spring Trade Week" is to convert the retailers to semiannual buying and to get them in the habit of laying in a portion of their stock at least in the early spring.

Many come from South. On that account the bureau will be well pleased if half as many retailers come to Richmond next week as attended "Better Acquaintance Week." That this pleasure will be afforded is almost a foregone conclusion judging by the number of favorable replies which have been reaching the bureau's office in the last few weeks. A striking feature of the answers so far received is the number of merchants from North and South Carolina, who are coming here for spring buying.

Although the firms in the Trade Extension Bureau will be quite ready to do business with the trade week visitors, the prime object of the affair is not to sell goods, but to promote a more intimate relationship between the local manufacturing and wholesale houses and their customers in Virginia and the other Southern States. The first thought in the minds of the Richmond hosts will be the entertainment of the visitors. If the visitors wish to transact business between entertainments, of course, they will not be refused.

It is not the actual sales which I make during Spring Trade Week that make me support the affair so enthusiastically, but the one big jobber the other day. "It is the fact that I realize the importance of getting my customers inside my establishment and bringing them into a personal relation with my firm."

Program is Extensive. That may be said fairly to represent the attitude of the majority of firms in the Trade Extension Bureau. While staged under a different name, "Spring Trade Week" is still in fact "Better Acquaintance Week."

The program of entertainments outlined by the bureau's executive committee is as follows: Wednesday—Dinner in the business men's club, with music and a cabaret performance. Thursday—Special performance of the musical play, "Forty-Five Minutes from overwork, worry, and business cares—don't you know there's a limit to your natural nerve force? When this limit has been overtaxed the nerves and brain are affected and they need an artificial stimulant.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey
gives force to the nerves and power to the brain. It is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant which keeps up the circulation of the blood, thus toning up the heart and building nerve tissue. If you have overworked or over-studied, and have become nervous, depressed or restless, take a tablespoonful in a little water three or four times a day. Sold by most druggists, grocers and dealers, $1.00. Medical booklet free. Don't say, "Perhaps I shall feel better tomorrow." Get a bottle of Duffy's today.

CANDIDATES FILE THEIR NOTICES

Now Forty-One Aspirants Seeking Thirty-One Seats in City Council.

Notices of candidacy flooded the office of Clerk Walter Christian, of the Hustings Court, yesterday. With only three days in which to get their notices in under the provisions of the new primary law, the candidates came out of the bushes, and there were now forty-one contesting for thirty-one seats in the two branches of the Council, with two still undecided. Unless another cost of his candidacy. Unless another contestant looms in the field, this money will be refunded, as an unopposed candidate is not assessed for participating in the primary.

All of the old members of the Council, with the exception of Alderman J. R. Perdue, of Madison Ward, who announced many months ago that he would not stand for re-election; John W. Moore, of Madison Ward, who is on the fence between fighting for a seat among the Aldermen, or sticking by his old colleagues; James J. Pollard, of Lee, who will retire, and Jacob Umfau, of Clay, who may shy his hat at the mayoralty, have filed their notices. New candidates who have already met the legal requirements are as follows: C. D. Mills, Madison Ward; Board of Aldermen; J. J. Burke, Madison Ward; Board of Aldermen; L. J. Cheatwood, Madison Ward, Common Council; Thos. C. Beazley, Clay Ward, Common Council; A. Y. Shen, Clay Ward, Common Council; George J. Hooper, Clay Ward, Board of Aldermen; Claude L. Watkins, Lee Ward, Common Council; and P. P. Picher, Clay Ward, Common Council.

L. T. Christian announced last night that he would positively file his notice of candidacy for the Board of Aldermen from Madison Ward to-day. This will make the fight in that ward extremely interesting, as five avowed candidates, and possibly Councilman Moore, will contest for three seats. Should the latter run, he will have his chance upon the Southside, which he has previously represented on the board and now represents in the lower branch.

The old members of the Board of Aldermen who will stand for re-election are William H. Adams, John H. Grimes, H. W. Melton and A. C. Nelson. Jefferson Ward; Joseph E. Powers, James T. Disney, Madison Ward; John B. Biley, W. J. Gilman, Barton H. Grundy and Marx Gunst, Lee Ward; John J. Mitchell, Lawrence Paul, Clay Ward; Ordway Puller, of Clay Ward, is the only holdover in either branch.

The candidates for re-election from the Common Council are Robert Lee Peters, T. Gray Haddon, Harry Huber, Walsh Jefferson, Harvey E. Atkinson, E. R. Fuller, Carter C. Jones, G. K. Pollock, Madison Ward; D. Butler, Fred H. Powell, Clyde H. Ratcliffe, A. L. Vonderlehr, Lee Ward.

Building Activities. Building permits were issued yesterday by Building Inspector Butler as follows: W. Ashby Jones, Sr., to build two-story brick tenement, with two dwellings, 131-29 Park Avenue. Cost, $12,500. W. J. Gilman, to build two detached two-story brick dwellings on the south side of Grove Avenue, between Shenber and West Streets. Cost, $4,500. Mrs. S. B. R. to build a one-story brick garage in the rear of 308 Park Avenue. Cost, $350. William C. Schmidt was granted permission to repair the building, 701-3-57 East Franklin Street, at a cost of $15,000. This building is used by the Union Stores Inc., and the repairs would consist of putting in approximately 25 feet of plate glass show windows.

Ned Edmundson was granted a permit to repair a frame house, 1205 Bainbridge Street, at a cost of $400.

AT SHIPPIING BILL REPORTED

As Amended, It Differs Widely From Form in Which It Was Introduced.

The Senate Committee on General Laws last night voted in executive session a report on Senator Mapp's anti-shippping bill, after amending it in important respects. The amendments increase from one gallon to three gallons the amount of liquor that may be shipped in any one consignment; provide that the bill do not take effect until November 1, 1916—the date when State-wide prohibition will go into effect if the State is voted "dry"; and permit common carriers to release a consignment upon the demand of an employee of the consignor or any other person armed with an order signed by the consignor.

As amended, the bill differs widely from the form in which it was introduced. The amended bill was reported by the committee by a vote of 4 to 3. Senator Mapp said last night that he was satisfied to have the bill reported, and that the matter of the amendments will be taken care of by the Senate.

The vote in executive session was preceded by a short hearing, in which the purposes of the bill were explained by Senator Mapp. The measure was supported by Dr. James Cannon, Jr., and was opposed by Senator Lester and Senator Montague. Both of the last-named offered to vote for it if it were amended to exclude from the State all intoxicating liquors except those intended for medicinal or scientific purposes. Senator Mapp said he would support the bill if the maximum package were reduced in size from one gallon to one quart.

The committee devoted thirty minutes to a hearing on the anti-gambling bill, introduced by the House yesterday. It voted in executive session later in the evening to send the bill to the Senate with a favorable report.

CONSUL ORDERED TO DEMAND BODY OF DEAD AMERICAN

He told the committee that the position of the United States in this regard was little improved, averring that ratification of the arbitration treaties concluded last week had been effected in establishing confidence among the powers.

The committee wanted to learn all the facts which could be obtained with relation to Mexico and Secretary Bryan answered frankly all the questions put to him. He emphasized the fact that the policy of the government toward Mexico was receiving loyal support from foreign nations and read to the committee several communications on the subject from other powers. He called attention to the speech in the House of Commons, the other day by Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Minister, after the British had been declared that it was an evidence of the general satisfaction existing in England with regard to the attitude of the United States toward Mexico.

The secretary was not at all reserved in discussing the facts about Mexican conditions. He answered to the best of his ability, based on the government's information, all questions relating to the political and financial strength of the contending Mexican forces. Many of the Senators displayed great interest in the character of the rebel leaders and the strength of the Constitutional movement.

May Recourse to Constitutionalists. The question of the United States recognizing the belligerency of the Constitutionalists was dwelt upon, the general opinion prevailing being that the time for such diplomatic move on the part of the United States had not yet arrived. It was conceded, however, that such a contingency might arise in the near future and would call for careful consideration.

Both the secretary and members of the committee stated after the conference that facts and not policies were discussed.

Mr. Bryan said that he endeavored to give the committee a foundation of fact, and that what should be done upon that basis of fact was a matter for future consideration.

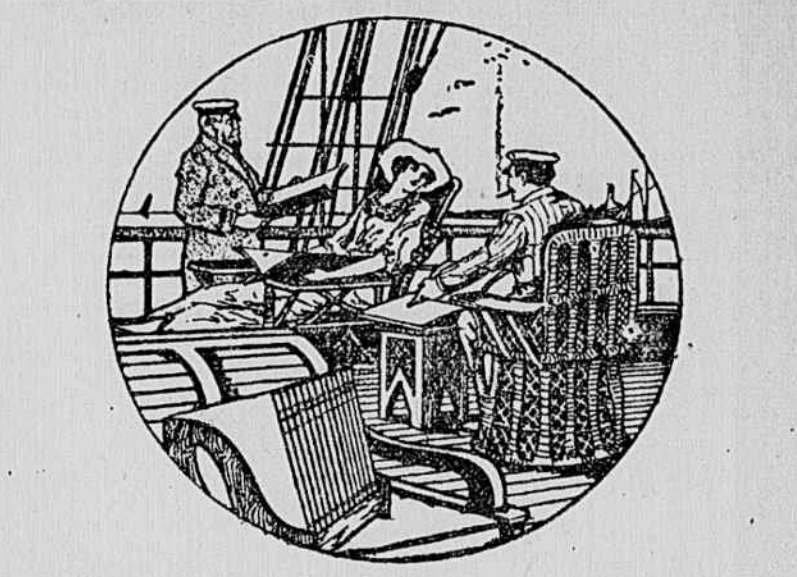

It was urged by Mr. Bryan that no action be taken in the Senate with regard to the Benton incident until all the facts had been procured by the government, and the Senators agreed that agitation of the matter would be ill-advised until the investigation under way has been concluded. It also was agreed that no further action by the Senate would be necessary at this time with regard to seeking information relating to Mexico.

Several Senators have been contemplating passage of a resolution calling upon the President and Secretary of State for such information. Such a resolution to-day was introduced in the House and referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Discusses Peace Treaties. Mr. Bryan appeared before the committee to discuss the peace treaties he is negotiating with foreign gov-

A Few Weeks Hence

the sale direct to the public of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica will be discontinued and the present prices withdrawn. $29 to $50 will then be added to the price, according to the binding. NOW—is the best time to subscribe.

If You Are Going Abroad

or expect to travel anywhere or wish merely to read about other lands and peoples.

Let the new

Encyclopaedia Britannica

help you

Before you start, plan your trip from the excellent maps; learn from the new Britannica the things to see in each place you visit; read on local art, architecture, and literary, historical and biographical associations.

On the trip, keep yourself posted. A volume of the Encyclopaedia Britannica can be carried in a grip, and a whole set in a small trunk. A single volume is light and handy enough to hold on read on cars or ship. Get authoritative, exact, interesting information when you want it.

After the trip, clarify your impressions, take stock, by going over the same ground in the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

If You Cannot Travel, But Want To,

it is practicable to get much of the change and most of the cultural value of "going abroad" by a reading journey through the 28,150 pages of the Britannica. Without travel's inconvenience and expense, you get in the Britannica descriptions and criticisms of the places you would like to see or have heard about, from guides far more expert than you could get in Rome or Florence by the day.

If You Have to Travel, and Don't Enjoy It, a handy volume of the Britannica in your suit-case will give you as interesting reading as any magazine—and far better written and more valuable; and it will give you, for travelling companions, the successful, interesting men and women of the whole world.

Everything About This Busy World of Ours

For planning or accomplishing anything else—getting there in business or professional or home life—the Britannica is the "only Encyclopaedia worth having." For expert advice on what are the important things in work, study or play as well as the important things to see in Paris or St. Petersburg, or anywhere in the whole world, it is the most valuable aid. This never-failing guide in every activity of life contains 44,000,000 words, in 40,000 articles by 1,500 contributors chosen from the entire world. By the use of India paper this great body of information is presented in 29 slim, elegant volumes which occupy less than 3 feet on a book shelf.

NOW Is the Time to Investigate

Now the Encyclopaedia Britannica is sold on monthly payments, which will soon be withdrawn, and for a small total price, which will soon be increased.

ernments, and particularly the treaty recently signed with Denmark, which contains a liberal arbitration provision, exempting not even questions involving national honor.

Many of the commentaries vigorously oppose this provision. Senator Lodge called attention to the fact that Denmark has possession in the Danish West Indies, and that international complications might arise under the pending treaty should Denmark seek to dispose of those islands.

Treaties which extend the principle of arbitration beyond the terms of the general arbitration agreements ratified last week, it was indicated, will not receive enthusiastic support in the Senate at this time.
